PRESENTATION of ten bushels of grain by Roy Marler, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, to Lieut.-Gov. J. J. Bowlen, in His Honor's office in Edmonton, launched the fall campaign to have Alberta farmers donate grain for the Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital in Calgary. Money from the donated grain will be used entirely for support of the hospital. Standing beside Mr. Marler and Mr. Bowlen is Elmer B. Roper, M.L.A., of Edmonton, Alberta Red Cross president.

Alberta Wheat Crop Of 160 Million Bushels Seen

The Alberta Wheat Pool estimated that the province's wheat crop will average 25 bushels per acre this year, or a total of 160,000,000 bushels.

The Wheat Pool said in its crop report that the 1951 Alberta oat crop is estimated at 128,000,000 bushels, and the barley crop at 108,000,000 bushels.

Only eight per cent of the wheat crop had been cut and less than one per cent threshed by September 8, according to the Pool report. On the same date in 1950 59 per cent of the wheat had been cut and 21 per cent threshed.

The Pool said that with a week of generally fine weather cutting is just resuming after being halted by heavy rains which fell in the last part of August.

With the exception of the odd point in Northern Alberta, the report said, crops remain undamaged from frost and a week to 10 days of hot weather would see most of the grain past the critical stage.

The report said that in the southeastern part of Alberta excessive moisture had caused a good deal of grain to sprout in the swath and, in some instances, even while standing.

TB DEATHS DECLINE

Alberta's death rate from tuberculosis for 1950 was 19.3 per 100,000 the lowest yet reported, it was revealed by C. Robert Dickey, General Secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association. Total number of deaths was 173.

The tuberculosis control program in Alberta is second to none in the continent, according to Mr. Dickey, and is steadily improving, with expanding community surveys through the Christmas Seal mobile units, and extension in TB screening of hospital admissions.

New Oil Field Reported Found

What may be another productive field for oil-rich Alberta seems to be shaping up.

The British American and Cities Service Company reported they have brought in a new well near Clive, Alberta, and that it might be the start of a new field in the area.

The well, Clive Number One, was pouring out gas at the rate of 400,000 cubic feet per day and oil in excess of 50 barrels an hour.

The company said it holds a block of 1,000 acres in the new discovery area, about 30 miles northeast of Red Deer.

was under the chairmanship of R. H. Mairs, and the latter part under the direction of J. R. Simpsons, chairman of the program committee.

Membership Increase In ACT Committee

Export Of Natural Gas Only For Defence; Oil Board Will Study Further Exports

Premier E. C. Manning said this week there would be no change in the amount of natural gas to be exported to the Montana Power Company for the defence production needs of the Anaconda Copper Company.

No further exports will be made without approval of the Board.

The legislature approved the defence exports and presumably would have to approve any changes.

On another subject, the Premier took the opportunity to express the government's appreciation for what he termed "the splendid co-operation and assistance received from officials who are voluntarily donating their time to civil defence."

He said General F. F. Worthington, Canada's chief civil defence officer, described the Alberta set-up as one of the best in Canada during a recent visit.

Asked if there has been any consideration given to relaxation of the mixed drinking ban in Calgary and Edmonton, the Premier said "no."

Train Service From Jasper Improved

Train service between Jasper, and Prince Rupert, B.C., will be increased from tri-weekly to six days a week.

J. R. McMillan, western region vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, said the change will go into effect at the end of this month.

Manning commented at his weekly press conference on a Montana report which said the power company had amended an application before its own State Board to take in "unlimited exports."

"Our legislation spells right out the maximum exportable amount," said the premier, "and it is not affected at all."

He said these limited exports were not authorized by the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, which is investigating applications for major exports, but by special action of the legislature.

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 30 IN COLLAPSE OF BRAZILIAN THEATRE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — (BUP)—A movie theatre in the inland city of Campinas collapsed Sunday killing at least 15 children among the 2,000 persons who were attending a children's matinee.

The bodies of the 15 children were removed from the wreckage soon after the accident, but it was believed the toll of dead and injured might reach 30 or more.

Rescue workers were searching the ruins for trapped survivors or bodies of addition dead, by the threat of collapsing theatre walls made salvage work difficult.

The roof collapsed about 3 p.m. Police blamed the accident on overcrowding. The dead and injured were placed on sidewalks awaiting transportation to the hospitals already filled to capacity.

Campinas is a river port in Sao Paulo State, 230 miles west of Rio De Janeiro.

WHO EATS IT?

No Meat Shortage At Prison In Saskatchewan

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—(BUP)—There's no shortage of T-bone steaks—or horsemeat for that matter—at the Provincial jail here.

Jail officials said they have 220 head of cattle and 24 horses at the jail barns.

A six-man gang of prisoners is out in the Kinsistino district today cutting and gathering hay for the herd of cattle. They have a target of 400 tons to collect before they can return to the jail, and to make sure they do return, three guards armed with rifles are with them.

Fellow In Love Taken For a Ride

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng.—(BUP)—Raymond Greeno, a fellow in love, has been taken for a ride.

The 28-year-old Greeno thought that crossing an ocean would stir the devotion of his British war bride who left him more than a year ago. So, Greeno, a cook from Providence, R.I., stowed away aboard a ship and sent a message to his wife.

But when the ship touched at Southampton, Eng., his wife refused to meet him. In fact she refused to permit him to land. Said she: "He is best in his own country... it might have been nice to talk things over with him, but it wouldn't have done any good."

Today, Greeno—a sad and wiser man—is making the long voyage home.

Britain Worrying About Health of King George

LONDON — (BUP)—Britain and the Empire have an inkling from doctors about what ails their Monarch.

The doctors say King George is suffering from "structural changes" of the lung. The doctors have advised the King to remain in London for "further treatment."

There is no explanation of what the doctors mean by "structural" changes.

The vague medical bulletin may not satisfy the British public. Lately, there have been increasing demands for a frank statement about the health of the King.

English lawmakers have reason to wonder about a closed-door conference between King George and Prime Minister Clement At-

Letter to Louisa

DEAR LOUISA—Do you think it is better for school girls to go with boys their own age or with older men?

My sister says that she allows her daughter to go with older men because they are better able to take care of her than younger boys, but I don't agree with her, do you? I think she is safer with boys of her own age.

MRS. J.E.M.
ANSWER—About the only time your daughter will be safer with older men is in case they are attacked by gunmen or under similar circumstances. Otherwise I would greatly prefer a daughter of mine to be associating with someone of her own age.

To begin with, school girls and boys fall in and out of love, as a usual thing, every few months. They go merrily on their way and in the usual course of events meet someone they truly love and settle down. They are as old mentally and emotionally as their associates and able to hold their own ideals, whatever the opinions of others may be.

But an older man, unless he is of fine character, has an advantage over a school girl. She will more readily accept this way of thinking as she feels that he knows so much more than she does. Unfortunately, most of the older men who choose to go with school girls rather than their sisters, do so because they consider them easy marks. Occasionally, of course, there are good men who are attracted by the youthful appeal of school girls and have no evil intentions toward them. However, even that is bad in a way, for they induce these girls to get married before they are ready for marriage and before the girl's ideas of love are definitely formed. It is a pathetic sight to me to see little girls, who should be getting their education and enjoying parties and dances with other young folks, tied down to the business of baby-tending and drudgery before they know what it is all about.

By all means encourage your daughter to go with boys of her own age and make your home an inviting place for them to visit.

had for both you and your daughter, should you approach the teacher in your present frame of mind and with such an attitude.

Have you ever realized that it isn't the marks your child gets at school, but what she gets out of her books and retains in her mind that matters?

The trouble with you is vanity. You want your child to get the highest marks in the grade, not because it shows that she has learned a great deal, but because you can have the pleasure of boasting about it.

If you are worried because you think your child is not getting what she should out of her books, go to the teacher and have a good co-operative talk with her and try to find out how you can help, but don't make a spectacle of yourself by having a row with the teacher because some other child has probably studied a little harder than yours has.

Will Mine Oil Deposits In Northern Tar Sands

The rich oil deposits in Northern Alberta's tar sands will have to be mined, rather than drilled in the orthodox manner of oil production, Mines and Minerals Minister N. E. Tanner said in a policy statement covering development of the multi-million barrel tar sands.

Tanner outlined newly drafted exploration, leasing and royalty regulations during the government-sponsored symposium held this week at the University of Alberta.

Over 100 oil experts, representing major companies on this continent attended the conference, featuring an exchange of ideas on whether economic development of the deposits, located along the Athabasca River, would be feasible.

The sands cover some 10,000 square miles and contain a minimum of 1,000,000,000 barrels of oil, according to published estimates.

Tanner said "Our policy has been adopted to encourage immediate private development to meet the ever-increasing demand for petroleum products and offset

MARSHALL STEPS DOWN

WASHINGTON — (BUP)

—General George C. Marshall has resigned as American secretary of defence, just one year to the day after he was nominated for that post by President Truman. He will be succeeded by Deputy Secretary Robert Lovett. Marshall said he was quitting with "deep regret." However, he revealed that when he took the post of Defence Secretary until last June 30, he had agreed to keep it only the effect of the uncertainty of supply elsewhere in the world."

Key points of Tanner's policy statement were:

The government will introduce a $25 licence for the right to carry out sub-surface geological exploration. A $1,000 deposit will also be demanded by the government to guarantee proper exploration.

When a firm selects what area it seeks to develop, it will be required to take out a prospecting permit covering not more than 50,000 acres. The permit will cost $250 with a rental of five cents per acre for the first year, plus a $50,000 deposit to guarantee satisfactory exploration once again.

MORE THAN 400 RCAF cadets, representing 14 universities across Canada, received diplomas recently from Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Stemon at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont. Course included political as well as military studies. Cadet F. C. Kinrade of Kimberly, B.C., is seen with wife Jean and son, Jimmy, after ceremony.

A missionary, captured by cannibals, was just going to be put into the cooking-pot when he was offered one last chance by the chief of the tribe.

"If you can show me something I've never seen before, I'll set you free."

The missionary took from his pocket a cigarette-lighter and flicked the wheel. A flame instantly appeared from the wick. The chief was astounded and exclaimed: "You can go free. That's the first one of those things I've ever seen that lights the first time."

Why!

"The duties of a soldier" was the title of the lecture given by an officer to his men. With a view to learning how far they had grasped the essential facts, he turned to one man and said: "Now, why should a soldier be ready to die for his country?"

The warrior ruminated for a moment, then smiled enigmatically: "Yes, sir," he said pleasantly. "You're quite right. Why should he?"

Wild Oil Well Here Tamed By Workers In Gas Masks

A wild well in the Acheson oil field, seven miles from Edmonton, was tamed Tuesday, and the danger of "another Atlantic No. 3" passed.

"There isn't a leak anywhere," said a spokesman for California Standard. "It looks like we've got it sealed off for good."

Drilling was expected to continue at the site within a week. Workers will first clean up the rig and surrounding country side, and "restore circulation in the well."

The Acheson rig blew wild Sunday when it "lost circulation" as specially-treated mud poured down the hole during drilling dropped through the casing when the well penetrated an open, porous zone. First gas, then gas and oil, shot skyward through the open hole, taking four lengths of pipe with it.

The well's circulation will be restored by again pouring mud down the hole. The valve below the preventer was damaged when the well went wild.

Officials estimated 10,000 barrels of oil spewed from the well during the two days it was wild. Oil that shot skyward left miniature lakes and a black blanket covering the surrounding barley field and trees within a radius of half a mile. Efforts will be made to recover as much oil as possible, mostly for fear of it catching fire later.

Well-tamers, wearing asbestos suits and gas masks, walked slowly in a crouch to the base of California Standard 11-11, which spewed oil and gas 200 feet into the air for 43 hours.

They repaired a valve on the casing immediately below the blow-out preventer, and the well

Two Killed As Jet Crashes On Carrier

WASHINGTON, D.C. (BUP) — A sheet of fire swept over the forward flight deck of the U.S. aircraft carrier "Essex", killing two men and injuring 15 others. The Navy reports an additional five men missing.

The fire was touched off by a returning jet fighter which failed to hook onto the carrier's arresting gear. The single seat McDonnell Banshee bounced over all deck barriers and crashed into a row of other jets parked in readiness on the deck.

Four of the parked jets were entirely destroyed and four others were "extensively damaged."

A Navy announcement said the Essex, veteran of many valiant battles in the Pacific during the Second World War, suffered no major damage, although the fire was termed "serious."

The Navy announcement said the mishap occurred Monday. The Essex and other U.S. Navy units have been in operation off the Korean coast for months.

From 1939 to 1951 Canada's federal government expenditures increased from $553,100,000 to $2,902,000,000.

NORTH POLE TO GET NORTH POLE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (BUP) — An Alaska man plans to establish a north pole at the North Pole.

Stan Garson, a Point Barrow oil worker, says "school teachers talk about the North Pole. Everybody talks about the North Pole. But there is no North Pole."

He says he has had the Northern Commercial Co., in Fairbanks fashion him a nine-foot, 200-pound red, white and blue pine pole to be embedded at the "true location of the North Pole."

He says his next step will be to try to talk the 58th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron of Ladd Air Force base into dropping the pole by parachute so it will stick into the top of the world—that is,

● A different kind of Diesel farm power, the Massey-Harris 4-cylinder 44 Diesel brings new efficiency, economy, pulling power... new money-saving field performance to the Diesel farmer. It's the result of an amazingly simple engine design. A special firing chamber—called a Dyna-Cell—creates a cyclonic rotary turbulence of the burning fuel on every power stroke. Burning fuel swirls the full length of the stroke exerting equal pressure throughout piston travel. Fuel burns slower, smoother... delivers a pushing force. It's cushioned power. Dependable power. Greater lugging power because there's full power on every stroke of every piston.
